WOMEN IN A HARROOM. The Reception Which Ed. Stokes, Jim Fisk's Slayer, Gave at His Saluon, New York, April 29.—There was a remarkable reception in the Stokes bar roon this afternoon. The proprietor, Edward S Stokes, better known as "the man who shot Jim Fisk," issued 2,000 invitations to ladies to visit the barroom between 9 a. x. and 10 clock, and nearly athousand women, with a sprinkling of fushionably-dressed men, were present. The room, which is very large, was artistically lighted, and the air pertumed by silver cologne fountains and a profusion of flowers. Behind an immense mass of ferns and palms was an orchestra playing Strauss' waltzes softly, to an accompaniment of the occasional clink of glasses on the bar and the hum of hundreds of whispered voices as the guests moved about the room. Early comers exhibited some timidity, but it was overcome after they had passed through the decorated corridors into the gorgeous bar-room. Warned by experience, travelers had begun to engage passage a longer time in advance than ever before. The rush began the middle of this month, and would continue till the middle of July. Even till the cal of July the steamer lists were already pretty well filled. At the Cunard office it was said that the travel was about the same as last year, when it was very brisk, and that passage was engaged well into July. The Williams & Guion line said that they were carrying even more passengers than last season, the large new steamers Arizona and Alaska being especially well filled, and a great number of state-rooms having been engaged up to the 4th of July. At the National line office it was said that the same having been engaged up to the 4th of July. The Matter Postponed for Three Weeks. Pittsburgh Commenda for yeterlay.

The Analgamated Association has staved off a settlement of the question of wages for three weeks more. At the district meeting on Saturday the propriety of pressing the demand for an increase of wages, as adopted at a previous meeting, was discussed at great length.
